

Seraina Telli

A COLORFUL UPDATE FOR ROCK MUSIC!

Anyone who has ever seen Seraina Telli live knows why her music is best described as "In-Your-Face-Rock": The musician fills every room with her unmistakable vocal power, big guitar riffs and her colorful punk-meets-glitter attitude. Her shows arouse all emotions: Boredom has no place at all.

Whether by herself and only with an acoustic guitar or with her band, Seraina easily captivates her audience. Without any fear of contact, she uses a wide variety of stylistic elements in her songwriting, from rock to metal, punk and a good pinch of pop, creating a refreshingly authentic sound that is eager to get into your ears and stay there. Her debut album "SIMPLE TALK" went straight to number 2 in the Swiss album charts after its release on October 21, 2022 - a sensation for a rock newcomer - and even managed to secure number 28 in the US metal radio charts.

The Album was recorded and produced in Switzerland and Mallorca, together with her producer Rico H, with whom Telli has been working since leaving Burning Witches in 2019.

With her music, Seraina Telli blasts us with lyrics of captivating straightforwardness: Songs like 'I'm Not Sorry' or 'Modern Warrior' make a promise of power that the multi-instrumentalist can effortlessly keep. At her live shows Telli takes you into her universe full of unbridled creativity, touching, shaking and never letting go.

In fall of 2022, Seraina Telli played several concerts with Stahlmann and accompanied Core Leoni, the band of Gotthard guitarist Leo Leoni, on their European tour "Let Life Begin".

In spring 2023 Seraina went on tour with "The New Roses" and opened two shows for the legendary "Steel Panther" in Hamburg and Berlin. She also supported "Monster Magnet" and played numerous festivals throughout the summer. As a crowning finale of the summer season, she toured the UK with "Visions of Atlantis". There was hardly any time to catch her breath; on August 25th, her second album "Addicted to Color" was released and hit the one and only number one Spot on Switzerland's Albumcharts. It was then presented in September and October with the successful and nationwide "Color Addict" tour. In December, Seraina did the honors at the "Das Zelt" production "This is Rock" in the Hallenstadion with greats such as Marc Storace (Krokus) and many more. Several international tours are already planned for 2024. The season kicks off already at the end of January in sunny Spain with a handful of warm-up gigs. In spring, Seraina will accompany "John Diva" and things will certainly continue at the same pace.

You guessed it, a day without music is a lost day for Seraina. Seraina Telli is an update, not only for rock music: loud, colorful and without mincing words, she plays herself directly into the audience's hearts and will also cause a stir internationally.
